

Around the Square

This column is being written in a prone position and from under the edges of a cold compress. We have just had a nasty brush with R. C. Lewis' little volume. Well, to be perfectly fair, it is not just Mr. Lewis' little volume for it specifically states on its front that the SIERRA MADRE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, YOUR LOCAL MERCHANTS and THE BANK OF SIERRA MADRE all have had a hand in its contrivance.

The little volume is called THE HOME BUDGET BOOK and it was being given away free else we never would have had one, but we never have been able to resist a giveaway and we generally get in trouble as a result. This time is no different.

We have gone along for a period of years in a pretty decent, poor-at-the-end-but-fat-cat-at-the-first of every month way. Maybe it has been a hand-to-mouth existence but that's an acceptable position for eating and we like to eat. Then we took home the little book with its chapter heading, "HOW TO GET AHEAD"—and there's the hook—bait, barb and all. It's a rare soul who fails to respond to the human urge to get ahead.

What do you do? Simple. You turn to the budget page and read all the headings such as Salary and Misc. Dividends; Fish and Meat; Groceries; Meals Outside (that confused us); Servants; Sewing Supplies; Car Fare and Etc. Under the heading of Education are listed Paper, Books and Magazines with no clear reference to Skirts, Sweaters and Saddle Shoes which seem to make up our education budget.

However, the book advises us not to worry over exact figures but just estimate. And then "when you have completed your various estimates, add them up on a piece of paper. NOW, compare the total with your monthly income."

Ye Gods! We've been robbed—someone has embezzled our life's savings! No, after we calm down we realize that it's just the normal variance between what we'd like to have and what we've got. The book says soothingly that perhaps we can cut some of our costs and add the difference to our savings. Ah! . . .

But in the next paragraph it sneaks up on us—"Now comes the real test. If you have been working on this budget in the evening, close the book and forget about it until the next day. NEXT MORNING LOOK AT THE AMOUNT YOU WROTE UNDER SAVINGS."

Tch, still a goose egg. So now they try psychological warfare. Sarcastically they suggest—"perhaps you have the happy thought I will not put the money in the bank now. I will spend as little as I can this month and whatever is left I will put in the bank."

Ha, that's us! You have us now alright, alright. But what's this?—"If you harbor such thoughts you have little chance for success. Thousands of people have resolved to live economically next month and save what is left. No one can save this way. THERE IS NEVER ANYTHING LEFT."

Dear Mr. Lewis, dear Chamber of Commerce and Local Merchants—please take back the little book. We know THERE IS NEVER ANYTHING LEFT but we don't like to be reminded.

We don't seem to be the type that can bear to read the handwriting on the wall too closely. For us you have ventured too near to destroying man's greatest illusion—the dear phantasy that regardless of the fact that THERE IS NEVER ANYTHING LEFT, we are still, somehow, GETTING AHEAD!

Gilbert Sues City In Planning Row; Says Ordinance Invalid

Eaton Asks Court for Ruling on Legality

BY ARTHUR HEWITT

Validity of Sierra Madre's new subdivision ordinance was challenged this week as Attorney Noren Eaton filed suit against the city in Superior Court on behalf of his client, Robert C. Gilbert. The law suit came as a climax to weeks of three-way bickering between the Planning Commission, the City Council and property owners.

The suit only named the City of Sierra Madre as defendant. It did not separately list Commission and Council members.

Gilbert, through Eaton, declared that Ordinance 469—the so-called Subdivision Ordinance passed by the Council last January 27—was invalid and unenforceable.

He brought out that on the basis of the ordinance, the Planning Commission last May denied him permission to divide portions of two lots fronting on Alegria Avenue into three lots, each proposed lot with more than sixty feet of frontage and 7500 square feet as required by the City Land Use Plan.

An appeal to the City Council was subsequently denied. Eaton pointed out that his client cannot dispose of his property as he sees fit, thus the city has interfered with his property rights. If he subdivides and sells, the complaint said, title may not pass on to the buyer, and Gilbert may be subject to a $500 fine and/or 180 days in jail, the penalties established by the ordinance.

THE COMPLAINT STATED THAT THE ORDINANCE IS INVALID BECAUSE:

1. It defines a subdivision as being something other than that defined by the Subdivision Map Act of the State, under the provisions of which the ordinance is said to have been enacted.

2. The provisions of the ordinance constitute a municipal invasion of a legislative field that belongs entirely to the State.

Final Masonic Rites For Sierra Madre's First War Sacrifice

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Lyon of 760 Canyon Crest Drive have been notified by the War Department of the arrival at Oakland of the cremated remains of their son, Benny Lyon, who was taken a prisoner of war at Corrigidor and died of pneumonia in a Japanese prison camp.

Benny Lyon was the first enlistee of Sierra Madre and the first man to give his life. He was a member of the Sierra Madre Masonic Lodge. The beautiful acacia in front of the Masonic Temple was planted in his memory.

The funeral rites at Mountain View will be Masonic. The time will be announced definitely as soon as final word is received from Oakland.

Youth Groups to Receive Support from a Community Youth Fund Drive

Youth programs in the broad sense will be supported this year by a Sierra Madre Community Chest. Instead of separate drives to raise funds for each group a one time drive will be launched for the overall needs.

Dr. Milton W. Valois, chairman general with the support of youth leaders and parents, will launch the drive early in October.

The Community Chest will support four organizations; Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and O. Y. Loan.

The idea developed from the Kiwanis interest in youth activities which has grown to the extent of a community responsibility. A budget from each group will be submitted to the Community Youth Board all of which will make up the amount to be raised.

Each week from now until the drive starts, a short resume will be given of one of the groups. We are starting with Camp Fire.

Why should the Community Chest Contribute to the Support of the Camp Fire Girl Organization.

The Camp Fire Girl organization, which includes the 7, 8 and 9 year old girls who are called "Blue Birds," is a typical community project. It reaches clear across the community life by being available to all of the girl youth from seven to seventeen, without discrimination. Camp Fire contributes to character building. Recreation alone does not do this. Group association under planned and trained leadership does build character. Camp Fire teaches hand craft, appreciation of nature, how to get along with others, what the girl can do to make her community a better place in which to live, and other valuable lessons. As the twig is bent—so inclines the tree.

—Mrs. C. Lauren Maltby, Community Chairman of Camp Fire.

WIDE SEARCH FOR STABBER OF TAXI MAN

With identification broadcast to all nearby cities, local police are continuing pursuit of the mysterious stabber who, just after midnight Friday, made a brutal assault on Yellow Cab Driver John F. Kelley, 4223 Denker St., Los Angeles.

Lt. W. J. Weirich of the Alhambra Sheriff's sub-station, is working with Police Chief Gordon McMillan in investigation of the man who lured his victim from downtown Los Angeles to the heights of Alta Vista Drive and then attempted to stab him with a sharp weapon.

Kelley, who was given first aid treatment at the Joseph Nash home on Alta Vista and later treated by Dr. Nathan Jacobs at the police station, testified that before midnight Thursday he had picked up his fare at Fifth and Los Angeles Streets in front of the Baltimore Hotel. He said the man, described as about 30 years old, 6 feet tall, about 175 pounds, and blonde, wanted to be driven to Sierra Madre, explaining that his father had "left him a couple of houses in the Canyon which rented for $30 a month."

The passenger directed Kelley to the Canyon and up to Alta Vista. In front of 581 Alta Vista he halted the car and got out.

Council to Meet P.E. on Bus Change

COUNTY TO TAKE OVER STREET REPAIRING WORK; RESURFACING WILL START IN FALL
BY ARTHUR HEWITT

Basis for negotiations which may end a squabble between the City Council and the Pacific Electric Railway over what route their buses should take within the city was laid at a meeting of the Council last Saturday.

R. O. Christiansen, general passenger agent for P.E., appeared before the council to plead "nolo contendere."

"I didn't know there was a disagreement," he said. "But whatever it is, I think it can be worked out in conference or wherever you say."

Councilman Herman Barter said that the point of contention over the routing of the buses should be resolved through discussions.

At the previous Council meeting, Barter pointed out that a temporary ordinance was passed last June so that the P.E. buses, which operate during off-peak hours, could make a left-hand turn from Sierra Madre Boulevard into the station's "front yard" in the square.

He pointed out that in making the end-of-line "loop" the buses use Montecito avenue, one of Sierra Madre's biggest "problem streets."

And besides that, Barter said, this routing to the end of the line was to have been for only 60 days. He suggested that buses proceed down Sierra Madre Boulevard to Mountain Trail and then north to Highland Avenue. Buses thus would make a stop directly in front of the station only when inbound.

Christiansen declared that a stop in front of the station on both trips was for the convenience of passengers and that it was the policy of the company to make end-of-line "loops" as small as possible. He said that if buses proceeded down Sierra Madre Boulevard, passengers could be dropped off there, but they could not be picked up on inbound trips.

Street re-surfacing and major repair jobs will be done in the city by the county road department, it was brought out at the Council meeting. Contract for this work was signed about three months ago.

Local Group Scheduling Concert Season for S. M.

A healthy possibility that Sierra Madre will have a series of at least three concerts by top-ranking artists this fall and winter, neared reality this week with the foundation of the Sierra Madre Community Concert Association.

Meeting with representatives of Community Concert Service, a branch of the world's largest concert agency, a group of Sierra Madre citizens drew up the preliminary organization with Don Jackson as president.

Other officers are Judge John C. Mead, first vice president; Charles A. Skutt, second vice-president; Mrs. Mead, secretary; and Al Morgan, treasurer.

Mr. Jackson announced that a brief but energetic campaign for funds is scheduled for the week of October 25. During this time, volunteer workers will take applications for membership in the association. Price for membership for three concerts will be $5 for adults, $2.50 for students. There are only 650 memberships available and none will be obtainable after

Pious Poodle, Sedentary Pig Compete For Prizes

Oh, the banties clucked While the rabbit quivered; The dogs did bark

And the cats all shivered.

The Pet Parade, sponsored by the V.F.W. and organized by Auxiliary President Mrs. Barbara Heasley, started off with an air and a phfft at 10 o'clock, more or less, Saturday morning and wound its meandering way through town to the Park where prizes were awarded.

Everything four-legged that hadn't dug a hole and hidden in it, appeared on the end of a leash and in a variety of costume. A smart Shetland pony marked time behind the banties who clucked and rustled in their owners' moist hands. A rabbit lopped its ears cheerfully at everybody and seemed to feel no instinctive need to flee although marching in front of the dog division.

The cats put back their ears, clawed fruitlessly and then resigned themselves to sudden death.

The guinea pig just sat. There must have been sixty kids in the parade and they, too, were bedecked in costume, colorful and gay as they pulled or pursued their pets through the streets. Led by the Boy Scout Color Guard, the entourage finally arrived at the Park and the moment of judgment.

Mayor J. Milton Steinberger, Judge John Mead and Fire Chief Jim Heasley were the judges and at the conclusion of much chin-pulling consultation, awarded grand prize to Gary Grumer who had toted Marshmallow, the family cat, in an ingeniously rigged cage complete with slide show signs.

Other prize winners included: Susan Clark, Buddy Green, Micky Hawkins, Diane Wilson, Alice McGlauffen, Constance Perkins, Bobby Rhodes, Susie Davis, Shirley Rillorta, Jim Yarnell, John and Janet Rudbach, Bobbie Evans and all three Eyre boys.

P. S. Special notice must go to Alice McGlauffen who walked with the freshly bathed and pious poodle, same being complete with cheesecloth wings and a shining tinsel halo.

A very fine address was given by Harold H. Storey, well known authority on world conditions, on the subject, "Global Strategy," warning that there will be no war for at least four years and probably five to 10 years, as Russia knows they are not yet equipped to cope with the atom bomb but they are laying their plans. "All nations strive for power," he said. "Britain, France and Germany have been relegated to second rate nations and the struggle for dominance will be between Russia and the United States."

U. S. Navy Welcomes Sea Scouts

By BERT EMBREE

Last week-end the U. S. Navy at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station cordially welcomed four of our local Sea Scouts, along with 56 other Senior Scouts from the Council, to two full days of fun and thrills, along with a taste of regular Navy life.

The group was officially "piped" aboard the base by Station Commander Capt. Kernodle, U.S.N., who practically turned the Air Station over to the visitors for an experience in flying in Navy transports and the large "Catalina" type flying boat. Besides divulging in "peculiar Navy chow," they were bunked in the barracks along with the "old-timers." Being special guests of the Captain, they were able to view some of the restricted films on the atom bomb tests by the Navy at Bikini.

After inspecting all the operations of a Naval Air Station, and satisfied that Sea Scouting has very definite advantages along those lines, the four boys came home with information very valuable to their future training. Those who went from here were: Leonard Barrett, Larry Borneman, Dick Dehnem, and Norman Morrison. Just a few that make up our local Sea Scout Ship.

Poison Oak Found Delicious by Horses

Poison oak is as nourishing a food for livestock as most shrubs, and better than grasses, says Dr. Arthur W. Sampson, professor of forestry in the University of California College of Agriculture. Chemical studies have shown, he says, that in the early leaf stages poison oak contains more protein than even the most nourishing grasses and it maintains satisfactory protein levels throughout the growing season. Unfortunately most animals such as cattle, sheep, and goats browse very little on that plant, but horses feed greedily upon the green foliage and tender shoots with no ill effects. The poison oak leaves do no damage to their digestive tracts, and not the slightest blister appears on mouth, nose, eyes, and the other tender parts of their faces.

Grant Edward Morgan Rites Monday at The Grant Chapel

Services for the late Grant Edward Morgan were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Morgan, father of Albert E. Morgan of the Bank of Sierra Madre, passed away Friday night following an illness of two years. Since the death of Mrs. Morgan in 1939, Mr. Morgan has lived at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leonore Morgan Cornes, at 130 North Myrtle, Monrovia. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Robert Grant Morgan and Nancy Leonore Morgan of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan spent their winters in Sierra Madre since 1902 and came here to live, on Mariposa, in 1931. Mr. Morgan divided his time between Sierra Madre and his business interests, Builders Supplies, in Cleveland, Ohio, for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N.Y., in 1864.

Mr. Morgan served as Water Superintendent of the city for a considerable time and is credited with the important construction of the water tunnels. He was a member of the Congregational Church and Masonic Lodge.

Rev. Carl Smith officiated at the service Monday and at the burial rites at Live Oak Cemetery.

MAJOR CAUSE OF SMOG DISCOVERED

The major cause of the smog which sometimes rolls in on Sierra Madre and other areas of Los Angeles County, and a solution for that phase of the problem, was announced by Air Pollution Control Director Louis C. McCabe in a report to the Board of Supervisors this week.

The haze which begins soon after sunrise and moves northeast over the county, "is very likely due" to the formation of sulfuric acid mist through the effect of sunlight on sulfur dioxide, which is largely released into the air by oil refineries, chemical plants and oil-burning industries, Dr. McCabe said.

Refineries Great Source

The great bulk of the sulfur compounds in the atmosphere—estimated by the petroleum industry to total 822 tons daily—emanates from the refineries, according to their own figures, the smog director declared. Gasoline burned in automobiles accounts for 22 tons of sulfur dioxide daily and the burning of Diesel oil for 12 tons, the figures show.

Dr. McCabe then proposed as solution for this problem the obtaining of a surplus ammonia plant for Southern California from the War Department.

Don't forget—traffic laws apply to pedestrians, too.

Suggests Solution

"Cheap ammonia would make it possible to use the ammonium sulfate or the ammonium sulfite-bisulfite process to remove sulfur dioxide from stack gases," he pointed out.

FIRE FLAMES

Sierra Madreans need not be reminded of the great fire hazard (at this time of year) that is now "hanging over our heads." Headlines of the fires elsewhere, warn of the need of extra carefulness. We do not want our mountains above us to "take off," nor do we want any homes to catch fire. In short and in repetition, we MUST be careful. Dryness prevails beyond the ordinary and just when we will receive sufficient moisture to eliminate much of the fire hazard is unpredictable. It only means that we must repeat over and over the practices of the past. We HAVE been very careful, we just "gotta" do it from now on. To those who are well aware, we do not need to remind of the many ways to prevent fire, so we are asking them to excuse the constant driving at these ways. There are many new folks in our city who have not practiced fire prevention as we have, because they have not needed to. A lot of them come from a region where moisture is plentiful. It is the duty of those of us who realize the danger to inform those who do not. We can do this without creating an ill feeling. If a newcomer makes a burning mistake or attempts to, either inform him of the danger or notify the fire station. We boast somewhat of dealing with folks on this subject without getting them in our hair. Most sensible people will reason and when they hear the story of our low fire loss and what the reason for it is, they gladly co-operate. When we meet up with people everyday, we find that most of them are real honest to goodness sports. The few that are not, are so few that they are not worth bothering our heads about, except that sometime or other they might start a fire that would not only damage them, but the rest of us as well.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, so designated by the President of the United States will begin October 3rd and run through the week. To prevent fire is not a week's practice with Sierra Madreans and we are well proud of the residents for their every day practice of this necessity. It has

3. The city has exceeded authority to legislate granted it by the Subdivision Map Act in that it seeks to define as a subdivision a division that is not so defined by the State.

Although the city has not as yet answered Gilbert's complaint, City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds said, in a letter that has not yet been considered by the City Council, that a city can regulate subdivisions where there are less than five lots involved (as required by the state for a bona fide subdivision). He said that the city ordinance requirement of a subdivision map would cost the property owner from $130 to $150.

Gilbert did not request money damages. He asked for "declaratory relief," pointing out that the city would refuse to issue building permits for construction on his property and that he has no adequate remedy at law.

Thus, the court was asked to rule on the legality of the ordinance, define everybody's rights and duties in the matter and charge the city legal costs. THE SUIT SPECIFICALLY POINTED OUT THAT:

1. The plaintiffs have complied with all the provisions of the ordinance in that the divisions are of requisite width and depth.

2. To refuse the right to divide as proposed will in effect deprive plaintiffs of property without due process of law and without compensation.

3. The provisions of the ordinance so far as they here apply are arbitrary and unreasonable and that there is no connection between them and the health, safety and public welfare of the City of Sierra Madre.

4. The City of Sierra Madre has no authority to require the recording of a map under the Subdivision Map Act for a division of property not constituting a subdivision under that act, and to require such action on the part of a divider of property is arbitrary and unreasonable and deprives a property owner of his property without due process of law and without compensation.

5. The defendant (city) has no authority to legislate regarding the passing of title to real estate.

At last Saturday's Council meeting, City Attorney Reynolds told the Council that the suit had been filed. He was instructed to proceed with an answer.

"This suit is hoped to be a vehicle which will determine whether our subdivision ordinance is a good one or not," Reynolds said.

COUNCIL TO MEET

Just where city gas tax funds, most of which come directly from the state, will be spent has not been decided. The council, which called Saturday's meeting in order to find out, asked City Engineer Joseph Hurley to get going on a report so that work can get under way. Expenditures for each street must be established separately for submission to the state.

The county's road chief, O. F. Cooley, said the city would probably be able to save money on its street maintenance and get a better job.

Cost of resurfacing with county crews will run from two to four cents a square foot. On big jobs, for which equipment would have to be rented, the city would have to pay out as much as 10 cents a foot if it did the job itself.

Besides actual cost, the city will pay to the county a fee of 15 per cent for overhead, Cooley said.

Small repair jobs will continue to be done by city workmen.

If the cost analysis reports are prepared this month, major resurfacing jobs could begin before the first of November, it was pointed out.

Cost of collecting tin cans and garbage will probably be increased by $240 a year. It was pointed out that the private contractor making the collections now has to pay $20 a month for tin can dumping rights, a factor not taken into consideration when the contract—fixing the total collection charge at $4200 a year—was signed.

Because the contractor was "far below" other bidders for the job and he now declares that the new dumping charge will drive him into the red, the Council indicated that it would work out an agreement under which it would pay the extra cost. The Council also:

1. Gave Hurley until September 28 to report on the proposed dedication of Churchill Road, emergency outlets for the Canyon area and a survey of new streets and alleys south of Sierra Madre Boulevard between Baldwin and Hermosa Avenues.

2. Told Highland Avenue residents that they would get some kind of a resurfacing job to keep down the dust which has resulted from loose fill over the new water main.

3. Passed a resolution extending appreciation to Miss Thomasella H. Graham for "the long and faithful service rendered the city as a member of the City Planning Commission." Her resignation had been accepted at the previous meeting.

4. Authorized the hiring of a water attorney to look after the city's water rights and look into the possibility of purchasing three private well rights.

5. Put off until January consideration of purchase of an air conditioning unit for the city hall clerk's office. (Assistant City Clerk Marie Shiltz pointed out that it was to have been bought more than a year ago, but wasn't. Then it was to have been bought this summer, but wasn't. The Council said, "The hot weather's over now, let's wait till next year.")

6. Appointed Councilman Henry Korsemeier to represent the city on the Sanitation District No. 15's Board of Directors as an alternate in the absence of Mayor Milton Steinberger.

7. Complained about the audit service of Auditor W. R. Wright and asked that somebody get Mr. Wright to do something about the two-month lag between the annual closing of the city's till and the final audit.

8. Decided to let the reading of four letters commending the Council on its Army decision wait until there was an audience present.

INCIDENT FIRE IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

What might have been the start of a serious fire at 7:15 Wednesday evening at the Ralph Shoe Store was averted with slight damage by prompt action.

Miss Susan Webster in the Goebel Malt Shop discovered the blaze. Phil Galashaw immediately phoned the department while Mr. Goebel called Mrs. Hurwit who came down with a key to the store.

The fire boys were on the job in minutes but did not break in, as the blaze appeared to be slight.

A transparent window shade evidently got too close to the neon sign and ignited. Damage was confined to the window.

Mr. Hurwit missed most of his dinner at a meeting of the

Honolulu Wedding Trip for the Robert T. Martinets Married Sunday Afternoon at St. Rita Shrine; Many Guests at Service

Mrs. Robert T. Martinet, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Martinet, Jr., are honeymooning at Big Bear following a church wedding at St. Rita's Sunday afternoon. The Big Bear stay is a prelude to a Honolulu trip. They are sailing on the S. S. Lurline, October 1st for a month on the islands and will return by plane to make their home in Sierra Madre.

The nuptial vows were made before Fr. Leo Scheibel in a setting of white larkspur, gladioli, dahlias and palms. White asters and gladioli used at the pews made an impressive aisle to altar as the bride, Miss Elizabeth Ann Brown daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown of Highland Ave., and bride-groom, Robert T. Martinet, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas Martinet of 217 S. Lima, took their vows.

Out of town guests included George Barker, Denver; Mrs. Herman Belleau Gates, Denver; Mrs. Harry Leech, San Diego, and Mrs. Robert Shoonmaker also of Denver which was the home of the Brown family before coming to Sierra Madre.

LOCAL GROUP

the close of the campaign October 31.

At the close of the membership drive, the local committee will choose artists for the coming season from a list that includes all the major concert groups, singers and instrumentalists now before the public, Mr. Jackson said.

He pointed out that all dues of the non-profit association will be used for the purpose of engaging the artists and defraying small campaign costs.

Community Concerts have been formed through much of the San Gabriel Valley and for several years subscribers to these series have been enjoying concerts by top-notch orchestras, leading Metropolitan Opera singers and instrumental soloists.

According to Mr. Jackson, the "organized audience" plan under which the Sierra Madre association will be operated, has been found to be the only "certain means of presenting widely-known artists without financial risk locally."

Headquarters for the membership campaign will be open at the Howard Furniture Store during the entire week of October 25 to 31 and a special telephone will be installed there for concert information and the taking of reservations.

out to look at the address. He told the driver that the place he wanted was further along and asked what he owed for the trip.

Kelley took out his price chart and had just figured that the fare amounted to $4.60, when the man came around on the driver's side of the car, reached in and stabbed him on the left side of the chest with some sharp instrument, inflicting a superficial wound.

Grabbing the arm with the weapon, Kelley managed to open the car door. He released the man and jumped out, calling for help. His cries were heard by the Nashes who summoned police and gave him aid.

Meanwhile the blonde stabber jumped in the car and drove south on Alta Vista. Police, coming in answer to the call, found the car abandoned at Sturtevant and Alta Vista, its position indicating that the driver had missed the curve and lost control.

The entire police force was called out in the fruitless hunt that lasted until dawn Friday morning.

Investigation is continuing on the basis that the stabber has considerable knowledge of Sierra Madre and that, although he was not under the influence of alcohol, may have been "hopped up" with drugs.

South of and adjacent to Cemetery

IF YOU HAVE A LITTLE BOY who wears size 1 to 6 you should get him some of these new "Balling Baby" corduroy overalls. They're just as cute as a button, of which they have none... they have grippers, and an adjustable snap buckle. Colors are red, blue or maroon. $3.50.

THERE'S A BIG DEMAND NOW for cotton flannel shirts, for both boys and girls, and the Balling Baby Shop is all set with lots of them. One of the most popular lines is called "Don Carlos Jr." There are plaids and checks in nearly any color combination you can think of. The sizes run from 2 to 18, and they're only $2.95.

LOT OF CUSTOMERS are taking advantage of the Balling Baby Shop's lay-away service, especially on Christmas toys. (Only 79 more shopping days until Christmas!). And here are some new arrivals in toy trucks that are nice to lay-away here, so that Daddy won't wear them out before Christmas. Those great big "Smithy" trucks are exact duplicates of the big trucks you see on the street. One is a Triton Oil truck with three little cans in the back. Another is a Redwood Logger with a trailer and miniature logs. Then there's a "Lyon's Van". They are priced from 6.95 to 12.95.

CALIFORNIANS DON'T LIKE TO ADMIT that it gets cold in the winter, but just the same mothers here have often asked for coats with leggings, like the ones sold in the stores back east. So we've bought a number of "Blossom" line coats that are made back east, and they have the leggings with zippers. They're all wool and lined. Some even have fur trims. There are styles for both girls and boys. Sizes are 1 to 4. 10.95 to 12.95.

ANOTHER POPULAR winter garment here is the Dupont Zelan cloth "ski suit." It's light weight, warm, water resistant. It has knitted cuffs and neck, zipper and separate cap. Colors are pink or blue. 10.95.

THE BALLING BABY SHOP is getting in so many cute things for fall that we'd like to take the whole paper to tell you about them... but that wouldn't be fair to the rest of the stores. So you'll just have to come in and look around. You're always welcome. Balling Baby Shop is at 401 1/2 South Myrtle Avenue, Monrovia 20411. Our store hours are 12:30 to 9 P. M. on Fridays.

Bovard Funeral Rites Yesterday; Burial at Sierra Madre Lot

Mrs. Philena Tufts Bovard of 159 Montecito passed away Monday in a Pasadena hospital after a week's illness.

She was born February 2, 1867, at Farmington, Iowa. She was the wife of Dr. Wm. S. Bovard and is survived by a daughter, Alice M. Bovard of the Sarah Lawrence College, New York; a son, Burton C. Bovard of Washington, D. C., and a sister, Miss Alice Tufts with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Bovard lived most of her life in Southern California and at the time of her death was the oldest woman graduate of the University of Southern California, and was a daughter-in-law of its first president, Dr. M. M. Bovard.

Services were held at the Grant Chapel yesterday afternoon with burial in the Sierra Madre Cemetery.

LAGUNA STAY

Mrs. Thomas P. Rigney of Lowell Ave., and Miss Phyllis Rigney are vacationing at Laguna. Miss Rigney is on the staff at Huntington Memorial Library.

Christmas Plans Viewed By Chamber

The second luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday at Hillcrest was a gathering of Sierra Madre business people earnestly discussing ideas concerning the business area of the city.

Clean-up and paint-up week was brought up as an idea overdue for action. A committee was set up for carrying out the plans. It was suggested that if rubbish containers were placed at strategic places about town they would serve as reminders to throw waste papers into the containers and not in the street.

Christmas decorations and open stores for evening shopping discussion brought forth the appointment of Miss Marguerite Manley of the Marjorie Janes Shop as chairman for polling opinions.

Drive with care—save a life.

But you'll have to hurry—Stocks of sale items are limited—All are wonderful buys! Come in and see for yourself!

Nursery School Scholarship Funds Increased by Book

Revising and expanding the original text, the handbook published by the Community Nursery School made its appearance last week. The original book was a mimeographed edition.

The handbook has met with remarkable acceptance. The Los Angeles Public Library has placed an order for 21 copies. The text meets requirements for the use of parents, students and the profession in child guidance.

The authors, Mrs. Marjorie A. Green, director of the local school, and Dr. Elizabeth L. Woods, supervisor of guidance and counseling in the Los Angeles City School system, have revised and expanded the original text to 136 pages, including 36 drawings by Frances Nugent and Bernard Wynne.

All earnings from the publication will be used as special scholarships in the community.

STAR THEATER VISITOR—

Margaret O'Brien, young film star, will visit "Hollywood Star Theater" when the program switches to a new NBC time-spot starting Saturday, Oct. 2.

With the interested cooperation and help of the NEWS staff, I am introducing this column to the public today, to continue as a weekly information feature for, by and about the Boy Scouts in Sierra Madre. I'll have news of the troops' activities, both at meetings and on camp trips, plus information on coming events. Each troop has an appointed publicity man to keep me posted on their happenings—thereby relating to parents and boys of Scout age the interesting and educational events of the week. Letters of comment and suggestion are welcome. Just address them to me, in care of the Post Office.

Troop Two, with Bill Newberry as Scoutmaster, had an interesting meeting last week to get the new Scout year rolling. Bill spent all summer with Scouting by being one of the many leaders needed to run a summer camp. He brought a good number of colored slides back, that he photographed, and showed them to his boys. They included his experiences at Camp San Antonio, on Mt. Baldy, and Camp Cherry Valley, on Catalina Island.

Vurg Smith, Troop Three, which had been inactive for the summer vacation, also started the year off with a bang-up meeting, having invited parents and visitors for the occasion. After the formal opening by Jim Cook, Ray and Keith Slevens, Ernie Patterson and Jay Vernon, Mr. Goldberg of the troop committee showed movies to the group. Duke Dain of Arcadia Sea Scouts narrated for some of his color slides taken on his trip to the Antarctic in 1935. Refreshments finished off the evening of entertainment.

I just finished reading the report of a recent 10-day trip by the Explorers, written by Tom Webster. The report, being too long to print, told of their mishaps and adventures while visiting Mammoth Lakes, Rock Creek, and surrounding territory. Ten days of fun were enjoyed by Lewis Spencer, Jim Carlson, Wesley Shipway, Jim Wilson, Loren Heasley and Tom Webster. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Heasley, Sr., with her sister and husband of Pasadena, acted as adult leaders. It sounded like a good time was had by all.

Advancement and Awards Chairman Ed Davey announced that the next Court of Honor will be held on October 11, and that the "deadline" for awards, along with the Board of Review, is tomorrow night, at 7:30 p. m., at Mr. Davey's home.

I attended the District meeting at Bill Kinney's home last Monday night, and among the business discussed was the re-opening of the Orchard Camp area to Scout camping, the coming Court of Honor, the Winter Caravan, and the betterment of Scouting in general. I believe the program for the coming year will be just full of fun and activities for the young boys of the town who are interested in Scouting.

Chiro Club Meets

Over twenty-five young members of the Chiro Club of St. Rita Church met last week at the home of Ronald Martinet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Martinet, 217 South Lima. The group enjoyed dancing and games.

Catalina Trip

Mrs. Paul Carter and daughter, Margaret, 666 Mount Wilson Trail, spent last Wednesday at Catalina.

San Francisco Guest

Mrs. Flavia Sennett of San Francisco has returned to her home after an eight-day visit at the James Brodhead home on Olive.

New Grille of '49 Kaiser

Massive Horizontal Bars which blend with a new one-piece, wrap around bumper feature the front-end styling of the 1949 Kaiser Deluxe sedan now on display at Nelson Motors, 227 W. Huntington Dr., Monrovia. Extra large parking and directional turn lamps plus the hood-mounted "Buffalo-K" emblem, distinguish the simplified grille design. The 1949 model embodies more than a hundred improvements.

Great Falls Vacation

Mrs. John Byers and Susan Maule arrived Friday at the home of Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Maule, 67 West Laurel, from Great Falls, Montana. Susan had been vacationing with her grandmother, Mrs. Byers, for the past two months.

In San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Daugherty, 1445 Rancho Road, vacationed last week in San Francisco. They returned home Friday.

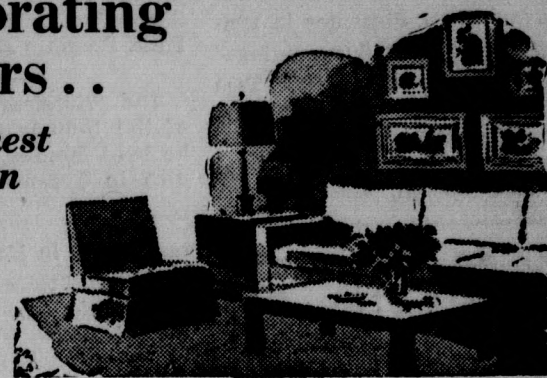

Mariottis Move

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mariotti, 324 Foothill, are moving this week to 188 Santa Anita Court.
